

Catherine Barratt

I was appointed as a Governor by the St Edmundsbury and Ipswich Diocesan Multi Academy Trust in February 2024.

My professional background is in education. I was a teacher for many years and now work to support school governors and trustees.

I worship at St Matthew's Church just next door to the school.

I am passionate about the power of education to unlock opportunities for children to be their best, and to remove any barriers that might be in their way.

I am privileged to be part of the local Governing Body of St Matthew's, a school that strives to give every one of its pupils the best start to their education in a safe, inclusive, welcoming environment.
